

Topics for Homeschool Cynthia L Simmons

“You learn and have fun when Cynthia speaks.” Cindy Lowman

Cover Their Eyes and Ears: Teach Your Children to Think – As mothers, we long to protect our children from the ungodly philosophies sweeping our nation. Cynthia will give you invaluable tools to prepare your child to discern truth from error. This is a very popular class.

You're Reading What?: Use Scripture to Teach Reasoning Skills – This class gives additional information on how to teach reasoning. Cynthia will share ways to use Bible study to teach your children to reason.

Another Mistake? Teach Excellence without Oppressing Your Child – As homeschool moms, we long for our children to reach excellence, but there's a fine line between high goals and perfectionism. In this class, Cynthia shares what a good home looks like and how to encourage without breaking your child's spirit.

How to Homeschool without Losing Your Sanity – Cynthia's mother often said if she got her children to adulthood, she wouldn't have enough sense to come in out of the rain. Once Cynthia had children of her own, she understood her mother's distress, and she helps that overwhelmed mother find ways to cope with all the chores. This class is a must for mothers of large families.

Teach Reading Comprehension – Learning to read tops the list of skills your child will need to learn. Cynthia demonstrates the traits of a good reader and shows you how to develop reading comprehension at every stage of development.

Homeschool and Stay Organized – A homeschooling mother has too many jobs and a lack of organization can cause added stress. In this class, Cynthia demonstrates that mothers can stay on top of the craziness and enjoy their families.

Make Homeschool a Lifestyle – Moms who choose to teach at home often juggle thousands of responsibilities, and they can feel crushed under the load. Cynthia will share how to blend education into your life so that it brings your family closer.

It's too Hard!: Surviving Your Special Needs Child – A disabled child learns differently and that adds pressure to the homeschool mom. While telling her own story, Cynthia demonstrates how to keep life normal and plan for the future.

I thoroughly enjoyed Cynthia's presentation ~
